Dangerous Imports

Communist China is at the center of a major threat to your safety. The majority of recalls in this country are on products made in China and imported in the U.S.

We'll have a special report.

And, the Rutgers University Women's Basketball team has accepted an apology from Don Imus. We'll discuss the issue with three of the nation's leading voices on racism and sexism: Bryan Monroe, President of the National Association of Black Journalists, Carol Swain, Professor of Political Science and Law at Vanderbilt University and Jason Whitlock, columnist for the Kansas City Star.

Dobbs: We're on a 'fast track' to bad trade policy

The powerful chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, Rep. Charlie Rangel, and I sat down together last night to talk about, among other things, his new book, "And I Haven't Had a Bad Day Since."

TOXIC PET FOOD

We asked both the FDA and the American Veterinary Medical Association how pet owners can protect their animals. Here are the guidelines they recommend:

- Make sure your pet food has an expiration date and contact information on the label.
- If your pet appears sick, take it to the veterinarian immediately.

More Commentary

"So Long, Texas -- Hello, Mexico!"

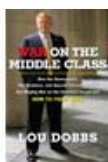

I think this is a very humorous and certainly revealing look at the illegal immigration and border security crisis in this country through the music of Johnny Tex and the Texicans.

Lou's new book: "The War on the Middle Class"

"The government, big business, and special interest groups are enriching themselves at our expense. Now more than ever, we're finding ourselves at the mercy of those individuals and organizations that control jobs, provide goods and services, and wield power... The middle class is being picked apart and its future mortgaged for the benefit of a small group of powerful American interests."

Immigration and Border Security Poll

"Lou Dobbs Tonight" commissioned a poll to gauge the will of the people on the issues of illegal immigration and border security. We believe it is the most comprehensive national poll that has been conducted in decades on these issues.

Required Reading

I believe there are two historical documents that should provide a frame of reference for every American. The Declaration of Independence and our Constitution are too often ignored or poorly understood by our elected officials from City Hall to the White House. We're providing these two documents on our Web site for your convenience, and I hope you will join me by reading them often and regularly.

All the best,
Lou Dobbs
