Have You Seen The Language?

This proposed amendment to the Ohio Constitution will appear on your ballot in November. The amendment uses 353 words to attempt to establish the right to "reproductive decisions". The word "abortion" appears in the amendment three times. Please take a few minutes and read the full language for yourself.

Then consider the questions about the real meaning and legal impact of these words in the "marked up" notes which are provided by the research staff of the Ohio Roundtable. Over the past 43 years the Roundtable has been involved in many of the major ballot issue campaigns in Ohio.

Please, before you vote, read the language and consider whether or not you want this specific language to be placed in the Ohio Bill of Rights. Thank you.
