Urgent Message From Dick Morris

Dear Dickmorris.com Reader:

I have been warning that President Barack Obama is leading America down a dangerous path to socialism. But, en route, he will take us through an even longer recession than we need to have; rocketing inflation, and perhaps a second downturn to cure the inflation.

All this will have grave implications each of our personal assets and stock portfolios.

Many people are worried — and they have good reason to worry.

I believe it's extremely important for Americans to take steps now to protect their money and their financial freedom.

So I agreed to participate in a special seminar online called "The Call To Arms" hosted by my friend Christopher Ruddy, CEO of Newsmax as well as famed former CNN anchor Bob Losure — scheduled for Thursday, May 7th.

The seminar has two purposes. I will outline what I think will be the likely political and economic trajectory of the Obama regime and sketch in the consequences for all of us. Then Chris Ruddy and Bob Losure will explain some investment strategies that they feel make sense in this environment and will put forward a plan to help you make your personal financial decisions.

Their approach makes sense to me.

Even though they are paying me to send you this e mail; I have, in fact, invested my own money with them because I think they are onto something. We expect upwards of 250,000 people to participate.

I want to encourage you to sign up for this "Call to Arms" online meeting. There is no charge to attend. After you sign up, they will give you FREE access to a members-only website. This site will help you protect your wealth and investments from the far-reaching hands of Barack Obama and the Democrats in Washington.

Please sign up for this no risk online meeting — Go Here Now.

Sincerely,

Dick Morris

The Final Countdown Has Begun

EDITOR IN CHIEF

Dear Dickmorris.com Reader,

We are only one week out from the Call to Arms webcast.

If you haven't registered to attend yet . . . Go Here.

If you are looking for a solution to our financial woes by going to the mainstream media or the government . . . you are sorely mistaken.

Just yesterday, CNBC was reporting that the Federal Reserve believes the recession is slowing down.

Have the folks at the Federal Reserve looked out their windows lately? Do they not see all of the homes in foreclosures? Are they clueless to how many Americans are currently unemployed?

But what do you think?

When you look in your bank account . . . do you see more money there? Are your investments thriving at the moment? Probably not.

If the government doesn't have a clue how to fix this mess . . . then how can you possibly make money in today's economic and political environment?

This is exactly why we need a Call to Arms.

You need help defending the wealth you've strived your whole life to earn and during this webinar you will be given specific ways to do just that.

So make sure you register for this critical broadcast.

It's free to secure your spot and up until May 7 (and probably beyond) we will be posting daily videos and feedback to your questions on a password-protected Web site I've created for this revolutionary event.

And on May 7 we'll make our stand.

My goal is to unite more than 250,000 Americans together in one place, at one time, and with one voice.

I will deliver you specific actions you can take to recover the money you've lost in your investments over the last two years. And I'm going to make a shocking announcement that will give you the power to reclaim your financial freedom.

Joining me on the Call to Arms broadcast will be my chief financial adviser, David Frazier, who will offer up the smart investments to make right now to protect your wealth from Wall Street and the Obama administration's outreached hands.

So take a few moments to register by Clicking Here Now.

Your life savings may just depend on it.

To Your Success,

Christopher Ruddy
CEO and Editor in Chief
Newsmax and Moneynews

P.S. Don't worry, if you can't attend the event on May 7, still register. You will be the first to be notified of when we rebroadcast it, plus you'll still get access to all of the free investment tools we've posted on the Call to Arms Web site. Go Here to Register!
