Senator Lindsey Graham (R-SC) called the Democrats' latest attack on Judge Brett Kavanaugh, "part of a pattern... They can't beat him on the law, so they're trying to destroy his life."

The 36-year-old allegation against Judge Brett Kavanaugh by Christine Blasey Ford is a shameful, desperate attempt to destroy a person in order to stop his nomination to the Supreme Court. Liberty Counsel stands by this highly respected jurist who has by all accounts led a life of respect for God, women, and the law. Please join us as we barrage the halls of Congress with strong messages reminding OUR ELECTED OFFICIALS that WE, THE PEOPLE stand by Judge Brett Kavanaugh!

Facts are stubborn things. See below — Mat.

B,

It's apparent that Democrats are pulling out every conceivable nasty tactic to block Supreme Court nominee Judge Brett Kavanaugh from serving on the nation's Supreme Court because he adheres to the Constitution. We saw the same thing happen to Justice Clarence Thomas. This is a serious injustice by someone who has an ever-changing story with plenty of political motivation. A 36-year-old unverified allegation during high school that runs counter to everyone who knows Brett Kavanaugh should not be given an opportunity to turn the confirmation process into a circus.

Judge Kavanaugh "categorically and unequivocally" denies the 36-year-old, unconfirmed allegation by Christine Blasey Ford of an alleged drunken sexual assault when both were teenagers. "I have never done anything like what the accuser describes — to her or to anyone."

Ford, a professor at Palo Alto University, identified herself as the anonymous woman who wrote a letter to Rep. Anna Eshoo alleging Judge Kavanaugh sexually assaulted her in 1982 when they were in high school. However, Ford has apparently changed her story dramatically over the years. In fact, news reports indicate she can't even remember the location, the year, how she got to and from the home, or how many people were involved.

+ + Below are disturbing facts that undermine her story:

- Ford waited 36 years to reveal this alleged incident. In 2012, she brought up this alleged assault in a couples' therapy class at the same time Mitt Romney was running for president and Brett Kavanaugh's name was being mentioned in the media as someone Romney might appoint to the Supreme Court should he win the presidency. However, she never mentioned Kavanaugh's name and claimed the alleged assault involved four people. Now, she has changed her story to two people.
- Ford is a registered Democrat who has made donations to Bernie Sanders, the DNC and ACT BLUE, a far-left political action group. She also signed an anti-Trump letter on border policy and was part of an anti-Trump march involving the president's alleged cutting of funding for science research. She made a hat to look like a brain patterned after the offensive hats worn during the so-called "Women's March" in D.C. protesting President Trump.
- Ford's attorney, Debra Katz, has a history of Democratic activism and spoke in public defense of Bill Clinton against the accusations by Paula Jones. Katz also said that former Senator Al Franken (D-MN) should not resign, even though multiple women accused him of ongoing sexual harassment.

Katz is the vice chair of the board of the Project On Government Oversight, an organization funded by George Soros, which co-signed a letter to Senator Dianne Feinstein and Senator Grassley along with a variety of leftist groups demanding Kavanaugh records.

- The one alleged witness who Ford claims was at the scene was Mark Judge, Kavanaugh's Georgetown Prep classmate. Judge said Ford's allegation never happened: "It's just absolutely nuts. I never saw Brett act that way." In addition, Mark Judge wrote a critical book about private prep schools and how he witnessed debauchery and out-of-control behavior from students at these schools. It seems apparent that if he had seen this alleged assault, Judge would have written about it. He didn't and doesn't even know Ford.

- Senator Diane Feinstein reportedly held the letter from Ford since July. Feinstein remained silent until Senate Democrats failed to have the hearings canceled. She did not take the letter seriously until pressured by other Democrats and liberal groups to release it.

The Left's furious fight to defeat Judge Kavanaugh's confirmation is growing more intense. We cannot and must not allow the Democrats to defeat Judge Kavanaugh's confirmation!

+ + Brett Kavanaugh is highly qualified, well vetted, and a man of integrity.

Judge Kavanaugh has gone through six FBI background investigations for his work in the White House, confirmation to the Court of Appeals, and now the Supreme Court, with not a hint of improper actions toward any woman.

On Friday, following Senator Feinstein's announcement, sixty-five women who knew Kavanaugh in high school defended him in a letter to the Senate Judiciary Committee. They characterized Kavanaugh as a "good person" who "always treated women with decency and respect."

White House Director of Strategic Communications Mercedes Schlapp said yesterday that she has known and worked closely with Brett Kavanaugh for over 17 years and referred to him as a "perfect gentleman."

P.S. This is how far the Left has gone to defeat Judge Kavanaugh – and why we must be relentless in our own efforts to see this confirmation through.
